Vancouver Technical Secondary School was established in 1916. In its earliest years, the school was a technical school (with all of the expected technical facilities) and served an exclusively male population. Girls were admitted to Vancouver Technical in 1940, major additions were built in 1954 and in 2011 a seismic upgrade was concluded. Today Vancouver Technical is a thriving learning community, proud of the many innovative programs and initiatives offered, in what has become the tradition of this ever dynamic and evolving (but also almost century-old) school!

Tyee Elementary

about a 12 minute walk - 0.88 KM away

Kindergarten, Elementary and Middle

3525 Dumfries St, Vancouver, BC V5N 3S5, Canada

Tyee is a Montessori alternative program school, committed to providing a rich learning environment for all its students based both on Montessori principles and on fulfilling the expectations of the Ministry of Education for all schools. An established application process is followed in admitting new students. There are approximately two hundred students registered in Kindergarten through Grade Seven in multi-age groupings. Students take responsibility from an early age, making decisions about how their time is spent on the learning tasks they choose under the teacher's guidance. The Montessori approach supports continuous progress, as children work on personal goals and academic challenges. Students learn to work independently, in small groups, and as members of a class. Since Tyee's beginning in the mid-1980's, parents have made a conscious choice to enroll their children in this program and are highly involved in making the school's program a success.
